

MENOTOMY CLUB OF ARLINGTON TO HAVE BALL TEAM THIS YEAR

New Team To Be First Outfit Sponsored By Organization Under Menotomy Club Colors — Home Games To Be Played On Thursdays — Veteran Players In Proposed Lineup—Gordon Weir Will Coach Team—Manager Chosen

The Menotomy Club of Arlington will sponsor a baseball team in Arlington this summer and play its home games on the Spy Pond Field. Their home games will be played every Thursday. They hold the Championship cup of the Arlington Lodge of the Sons of Italy presented to them at the Sons of Italy outing. This team compares quite favorably with the other teams in suburban towns as far as playing ability goes. They are also a member of the newly formed Paul Revere Baseball League. This league consists of the Menotomy Club of Arlington, Lincoln Town Team, Belmont A. A., Sacred Hearts of Watertown, Lexington Minute Boys' Town Team, Bedford Town Team, Winchester Town Team, West Concord Town Team and the Reading Town Team. This is the fastest league to be recently organized and that fact is displayed by the presence of Polly Harris of Belmont who is president.

The positive lineup of men who will represent this club on the diamond are listed here. All the men listed below have given their personal word for their appearance in a uniform of this Menotomy Club. Johnny Lane, Arlington High's one man pitching staff of bygone years will be one of the moundsmen. His ability is not to be denied. He has all the necessities to become a great player and is equally as good a pitcher as a pitcher. His work for the Weymouth team of the South shore last year has been highly praised. Tommy Turnbull, last year's supreme twirler will again don a uniform and he tells the writer that he will win his share of the games. He is not a big fellow but when a man like Charlie Devens of Harvard, who incidentally right now is considered the best college pitcher in the east, told the writer last year that Tommy

Registration Of Voters At Town Hall Tomorrow

The last opportunity for qualified voters in Arlington to register before the presidential primaries will come up tomorrow when the Arlington board of registrars, consisting of Eben E. Dewing, E. Caroline Pierce and James J. Golden, Jr., will hold a registration session at Robbins Memorial Hall from 12.00 o'clock noon until 10 o'clock at night. Every person qualified to vote is again reminded that no other registration session will be held before the presidential primaries as this is the last of a series of sessions which started last March 25.

Arlington Girl To Have Major Role In Show

Helen P. Stinson, of 51 Appleton street, Arlington, has been selected as one of the cast of "Trial by Jury" which is to be presented by the Gilbert & Sullivan association of Boston University during Junior Week, Miss Stinson will take the role of the First Bridesmaid. She has already achieved remarkable success in "The Mikado" as Pitti Sing and in "Patience" as Lady Angela, both of which were before large audiences at Jordan Hall in past years of Gilbert & Sullivan activities at Boston University. Miss Stinson is secretary to Dean Marshall of Boston University, college of music, and is very well known in Arlington musical circles.

Other veterans of past Gilbert and Sullivan productions at Boston University have returned to the halls from which they were graduated for initial rehearsal of "Trial by Jury" which will feature the University's 1932 Junior Week, April 25 to 30, under the leadership of Prof. Harry B. Center. Former stars of college shows including, "The Mikado," "Patience," "Iolanthe," and "Yeomen of the Guard," which have been Boston University's presentations in former years, are uniting for the success of the first alumni show. The short operetta will be a curtain-raiser for the famous operetta, "Pinafore" which will have a cast of undergraduates.

While Prof. Harry B. Center is coaching and directing "Pinafore," his son Edward V. Center, is coaching "Trial by Jury." Irwin C. Cowper, well-known radio announcer will play the leading role of the "Learned Judge." The Cowper tradition at Boston University has its source in his masterful presentation as "Ko Ko" in "The Mikado," "Bunthorne" in "Patience," and as "Lord Chancellor" in "Iolanthe." Pauline Ahern of Weymouth, who starred as "Elsie Maynard" in "Yeomen of the Guard," in 1929, will be the beautiful plianthe, whose breach of promise suit ends happily for all, while her brother John Ahern will be the defendant.

William O. Goss of Revere, as the plaintiff's counsel, will recite how she had "already bought her trousseau." His record includes that of "Pish Tush" in "The Mikado" and the Colonel plumed Usher" will be portrayed by Paul Brooks of Portland, Me., who played "Pooh Bah" in "The Mikado."

Probe Into Convict's Death

Charging that her husband met his death through cruel treatment on the part of prison authorities, Mrs. A. D. Swor (above), a convict of Eastman Prison Farm, where he was serving a five-year sentence for burglary, died after a few days' illness. It is alleged that the man had told his jailers that he was too ill to work, whereupon he is said to have been whipped and chained to a bench on the farm. He died the day after his removal to Huntsville Prison.

MODIFICATION OF ANTI-TRUST LAWS SOUGHT TO END DEPRESSION

Modification of the anti-trust laws is the most common suggestion for remedying depression advanced by Massachusetts business leaders, states Harvey A. Wooster, director of the Massachusetts special commission on stabilization of employment which has been seeking suggestions from men and women in all walks of life as to what can be done to insure greater stability of employment in the future.

"Artists, writers, college presidents, teachers, lawyers, social workers, laboring men, bank presidents, heads of insurance companies, manufacturers and people in many other walks of life," says Mr. Wooster, "have expressed to us their ideas of what should be done to mitigate the severity of such periods of depressed business as we now are passing through. The reactions are varied. Some are detailed; others extremely brief. Roland M. Baker, former postmaster of Boston, for example, sums it all up by quoting Paul M. Warburg, in boom times sit on the beach."

"Inadequate control of the credit situation, over-production, and high pressure super-salesmanship are the most frequently mentioned causes of the present situation. The commission's purpose in asking for these opinions and ideas has been to get first-hand a picture of what people are thinking regarding the whole problem of stabilization of business and employment, according to Director Wooster who declares that the contributions have been of great value.

Typical expressions follow:— Bishop Samuel G. Babcock of Boston: "I am compelled to the belief that some form of unemployment insurance to which the worker and employer should both contribute, would bring about improved conditions."

Arlington Pastor Appeals For Radio
Rev. Charles T. Hall, rector of St. John's Church, Arlington has made an appeal for a radio from some public-spirited Arlington resident. If anyone has recently purchased a new radio and discarded an old one, the rector will appreciate receiving the discarded set providing that it is in good order or can be put in commission at a small expense. He wishes to pass it on to a parishioner to whom the radio means much in the way of companionship and enjoyment, but whose own machine (second hand to begin with) is beyond repair, and who cannot afford to replace it. The Rector vouches for the reasonableness of this request.

Arlington Fans To See Novel Texas Rodeo

The Texas Rangers Rodeo, a complete all-Western championship contest Rodeo, will attract many Arlington sports fans from April 8 to 16. It will be the first complete rodeo ever staged in the East and will include every known event that comes under the head of cowboy sports as found only at the big rodeos of the West. The program will include thirty-one different competitive cowboy sports, with thousands of dollars in cash prizes posted for the winners. Many daring and thrilling stunts never before programmed East of the Mississippi will make it complete in every detail. Never the same, there will be new thrills at every show.

Contests of six-gun manipulation and other skillful stunts of the cowboy aside from those events of broncho busting, roping, trick riding, steer wrestling, steer riding, and calf roping, will be on the program. There will be more than 250 cowboys and cowgirls, 300 head of outlaw bucking horses, wild steers and trained cow ponies, as well as chuck wagons, prairie schooners, stage coaches, oxcart, real white mules, Indians in special events—just everything!

Milt Hinkle, ex-Texas Ranger, daring cowboy and veteran of the range and rodeo arena, who was reared on the hurrican deck of bucking bronchos, will personally direct the championship contests. Hinkle is one of the most colorful figures of the old West.

The Rodeo opens with an evening performance on Friday, April 8, and continues until Saturday evening, April 16, with matinee performances on both Saturdays and Wednesday, April 13. A special midnight show will be given on Thursday evening, April 14, instead of the regular evening show. There will be special events for the young patrons who are advised to listen to "Big Brother" over WNAC on Monday, April 4.

Over Fifty Arlington Merchants Already Signed Up For Event—More Booths Available On Application To Local Chamber of Commerce—Fashion Show, Music and Free Prizes Among Features of First Arlington Trade Exposition

All but a few booths and spaces have been reserved by Arlington business men for the mammoth Arlington Trade Show which will take place at Robbins Memorial Town Hall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 10, 11 and 12. The show was originally scheduled for April 26, 27 and 28 but was postponed because of the presidential primaries. Fifty-five spaces are available for this event sponsored by the Arlington Chamber of Commerce and according to information given by William Whowell, chairman of the Trade show Committee, yesterday, only a few choice spaces are now available. These may be obtained at prices ranging from thirty to forty-five dollars depending upon the size of the booth. It is expected that these remaining spaces will be taken very shortly since interest in the affair, the first of its kind ever staged in Arlington, is keen.

The Arlington Trade Show promises to surpass all past co-operative events ever produced in this city. The management of the exhibition is in charge of Walter G. Fields of Hingham who is also president of the Hingham Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Fields is managing the South Weymouth Trade Show which opens tomorrow and continues through April 8. Arlington residents desiring tickets for the South Weymouth event may secure these free of charge of Whowell's Dry Goods store on Massachusetts avenue.

BUILDING INSPECTOR MAKES MARCH REPORT

Although Arlington is ahead of many other communities as far as home building is concerned, the Building Inspector submitted to the board of Selectmen yesterday shows a marked drop in building construction locally during the past month as compared with the same month in 1930 and 1931. Twenty four building permits were issued by the building inspector during the month of March. These permits were for projects which amounted to $68,825. Thirty-one plumbing and gas piping permits were also issued here in Arlington last month. In the year 1930, the building permits for March amounted to $131,090 but this included a permit for the erection of an apartment house at a cost of $33,000. During the month of March 1931, building permits issued amounted to $117,090.

It was pointed out yesterday at the office of the Building Inspector that although a drop has been noticed in building construction here over past years, this decrease is not as sharp as in other communities of the size of Arlington. Considering general business conditions, the amount of construction work here during the month just ended is fairly large.

The list of building permits issued in Arlington during the past month follows:
Dwellings, 1 family 10 $60,000
Garages 5 1,950
Gar under dwell. 1
Inings 1 150
Garages, four car 2 500
Add. & alterations 2 4,500
To alter garage & dwelling 1 800
Summer Camp 1 400
Foundation 1 200
To move one-family dwelling 1 300
To demolish Stable 1 25

Total permits issued 24 $68,825

COACH OSTEGREN CALLS ARLINGTON HIGH NINE FOR FIRST PRACTICE

The Arlington High baseball squad, turned out with over a hundred candidates for the eight positions which are open yesterday afternoon. Coach Ostegren entertained the boys at Spy Pond field, and started them off with the usual remarks as to limbering up properly.

The session consisted of tossing the ball around, batting practice, and outfield practice. Then the catchers donned the "armour," and the pitchers, who have been getting in condition at the High School gym began tossing them up. Two teams were chosen and one took the field while the other took its turn at the bat. The object of this short scrimmage was to make it as easy as possible for Ostegren to weed out as many as possible by seeing them in actual game. As yet Coach Ostegren has no idea as to just who will stay on the squad, as he states "everyone has an equal chance." With practically an entire team to build Coach Ostegren has quite a job on his hands. He has only two veterans back this year, Clarke, who is captain and Crovo, the versatile athlete.

But with over a hundred hoping to gain a position on the varsity team, it is easily seen that a championship team may yet be molded out of a comparatively hopeless situation. It was estimated by some who were looking on, "who should know," that it was the greatest baseball squad in relation to numbers, that ever represented Arlington High.

The names of some of the candidates who were noticed by the scribe on the field are: Outfielders: Theodore Harding, Frank Cannell, Edward Graco, Robert Staff, C. Richardson, Paul Hendrick, Bradley Carl, Joseph Keefe, Joseph Lax, Joseph Graham, Albert Pochini, Nels Oakes, Joseph Kennedy, L. Cash, M. Collins, Robert Kelley, R. Collins, J. Lowe, R. Scanlon. Infielders: Gordon Clarke, William Leahy, D. Cary, J. Cuniff, Russell Smith, Robert Buckley, Francis A'Hern, James O'Donnell, W. Casazza, F. Gasella, Al. Lane, Merrill Tolman, Joseph Barrie, Pete Greely, William Hauser, James O'Brien, John Walsh, Charles Pearce, Gerald Donovan, Carl Blakely, Joseph Cartullo Francis Boardman, R. Tashjian, George Traverson, Harry Austin, Robert Batt, Pitches: J. Keefe, Crovo, Weidman, Starr, Lynch, Higgins, Komenda, Pluta, Cronin, McCormack, Catchers: Wright, Mahony, Golden, Hanlon.

Tonnage Must Be Sacrificed to Love!

Fat Men Must Reduce or Lead an Unromantic Life. Divorce Walks in Shadow of Corpulence. Jazz King Laid Adipose Tissue on Altar of Cupid.

Paul Whiteman, famous impresario of jazz, blamed the disagreements with three previous wives that ended in divorce upon his artistic temperament. But the present Mrs. Whiteman, the former Margaret Livingston, screen actress, discovered the real secret. Before she consented to marry Whiteman, a secret stipulation that he shed 50 of his 269 pounds. He did so, and the wife who has kept him down to a mere 189 ever since, and their romance continues to bloom.

Fatty Arbuckle, once the screen's most famous comedian, lost two wives by the divorce route owing to the clash between romance and tonnage. He is now engaged to Addie McPhail. They were to have been married last Fall. Maybe Addie is insisting upon Arbuckle getting rid of his spherical silhouette before she consents to honor and cherish. There is hope for fat men in the news that Henry Rohrer, 787-pound big shot of California, and his 110-pound bride are still in love, despite the vast difference in displacement. However, Mrs. Rohrer has induced hubby to do some rope-skipping—just to keep fit. Then, of course, there is the romance of Aimee Semple McPherson and her husband, David Hutton. The famous evangelist fell in love with her baritone spouse despite the fact that his figure is anything but willowy. So maybe we're all wrong. It is just possible that the heart of a Romeo beats under many a Faustian body.

Speaks On State Colleges From Station WNAC

"Indications are that the sponsors of last grant college did not expect these types of institutions to differ essentially from other colleges, but only that they should make available to the industrial classes the same opportunities for college education which were at that time available only to the 'intellectual classes,'" said Roscoe W. Thatcher, president of Massachusetts State College, in a radio talk over Station WNAC, Boston, on "What the State College Has to Offer."

President Thatcher pointed out that while the original Morrill Act stated that the college was to be for those "engaged in agriculture and mechanic arts" it did not specify that the work offered should be confined to the teaching of agriculture and mechanic arts. "Happily," he said, "the early presidents and faculty of the State College believed that adequate preparation for agricultural pursuits required a course of study well founded in fundamental sciences, and supported by social, economic, and humanitarian subjects as a preparation for satisfactory living."

In describing the work offered at the State College, President Thatcher said that four-year curriculum offered a choice of five majors: agriculture, horticulture, home economics, the physical and biological sciences, and the social sciences. For these, bachelor of science degrees are offered. Other colleges and universities of the state being adequately provided with the facilities for granting of arts degrees.

The two-year Stockbridge School of Agriculture is not a "farm school" teaching inexperienced boys how to milk cows and harness horses," said the president, "but a school of agriculture giving them an education in the principles and methods of farm management which will assist them in intelligent development of the business in which they may engage."

The Agricultural Experiment Station, Extension Service, and other departments added to the college proper, use about 45 per cent of the budget allotted to the institution. Stockbridge School of Agriculture, short courses, and regular college work in the field of agriculture use another 20 per cent, so that about two-thirds of the institution's expenditures are devoted to agricultural welfare.

The change in name which took place last year will not, according to President Thatcher, bring about any change in the curricula or general activities of the institution. "The new name merely serves to indicate more accurately the general scope of the college's resident instruction than did the former name," the president explained.

President Thatcher's radio talk was the first of a series of three which will be given over Station WNAC. The next will be April 8 and 4 p. m. when R. D. Hadley, secretary of the State College, State College Campus, Fred J. Loring, director of the experiment station, will talk on "Graduate Work at Massachusetts State College," on April 15.

Business Leaders Tell of Ways To Remedy Conditions

Modification of the anti-trust laws is the most common suggestion for remedying depression advanced by Massachusetts business leaders, states Harvey A. Wooster, director of the Massachusetts special commission on stabilization of employment, which has been seeking suggestions from men and women in all walks of life as to what can be done to insure greater stability of employment in the future.

"Artists, writers, college presidents, teachers, lawyers, social workers, laboring men, bank presidents, heads of insurance companies, manufacturers and people in many other walks of life," says Mr. Wooster, "have expressed to us their ideas of what should be done to mitigate the severity of such periods of depressed business as we now are passing through. The reactions are varied. Some are detailed; others extremely brief. Roland M. Baker, former postmaster of Boston, for example, sums it all up by quoting Paul M. Warburg. 'In boom times, sit on the bulges.'"

"Inadequate control of the credit situation, overproduction, and high pressure super-salesmanship are the most frequently mentioned causes of the present situation."

"Some form of group or unit management of industries to retard overproduction is proposed by many. While modification of anti-trust laws is the most common suggestion of those contributors who are actively engaged in business or finance, the most frequently recurring remedial suggestion from people in other walks of life is some form of unemployment insurance."

The commission's purpose in asking for these opinions and ideas has been to get first-hand pictures of what people are thinking regarding the whole problem of stabilization of business and employment, according to Director Wooster who declares that the contributions have been of great value.

Typical expressions follow:

Bishop Samuel G. Babcock of Boston: "I am compelled to the belief that some form of unemployment insurance to which the worker and employer should both contribute, would bring about improved conditions."

Robt. Payne Bigelow, biologist, Brookline: "The present situation is largely due to the disproportionate growth of urban population at the expense of rural areas. I would suggest a survey of unoccupied lands to determine just what areas could be used for small farms. It would be a help if the large industries could be operated in smaller units situated in villages, so that a person might live on a little farm and at the same time do factory work when labor was in demand."

Augustus P. Loring, lawyer, Boston: "The desired result can only be brought about by the regulation of industry, adapting the supply to demand, either by forced or voluntary regulation. Forced regulation means regulation by the Government, as in Russia. Voluntary regulation cannot be accomplished as long as the Sherman and Clayton Anti-Trust Laws are in force, which absolutely forbid any co-operative action, and make such co-operative action a criminal offense. I do not believe that we Americans will ever accept government regulation to the extent that it would be necessary to attain the desired result."

"I do see some signs that they are getting tired of the Anti-Trust Laws which force on the community unregulated competition, which, together with other international complications, are at the bottom of our troubles today."

Walker Langsho, president, Dartmouth Mfg. Co., New Bedford: "Massachusetts' industries should have the same rights in the matter of hours of employment and the same relief from pernicious legislation as other states have, particularly in New England, both of which are detrimental to labor and capital and cannot be cured by remedies that are only palliative in their effect."

Alvan T. Simonds, president, Simonds Saw and Steel Co., Fitchburg: "My whole remedy consists of putting the brakes on pernicious international competition and a national control of the credit system."

"I am very hopeful that something better than our go'd standard can be devised, but until such time as detailed suggestions are acceptable, let us say that we

Higher Parcel Post Rates Announced

An increase in parcel post rates within the first four zones—estimated to bring in $7,500,000 in new Federal revenue—will be made effective Oct. 1.

Officials of the Postoffice Department have decided on the rate. The Interstate Commerce Commission approved the increase March 15.

The Postoffice Department, before setting Oct. 1, communicated with all mail order companies which had appeared in opposition to the new rates, and took account of their wishes in setting the date. The changes would increase rates from 7 cents to 8 cents for the first pound in zones one and two with an average increase of approximately 3 cents over present rates for parcels weighing from two to 70 pounds. Rates in the other zones are increased proportionately.

Eddie Kozowyk, State 1000-Yard Champ, Medford 1933 Track Leader

Unanimously Elected At Meeting of 12 Lettermen Yesterday—Has Been Member of Team For Two Seasons and Was Consistent Winner in Recent Indoor Season — Outdoor Season Gets Under Way With Short Practice at Fulton Street

Eddie Kozowyk, class A, state indoor 1000-yard champion was unanimously elected captain of the Medford High 1933 indoor track team at the meeting of the lettermen called yesterday by Coach Eddie Pidgeon. Eddie is a Junior and has been a member of the squad for two seasons, first gaining recognition running the "880" for the outdoor collection last spring.

Eddie was a consistent winner in the past indoor season and wound up with a brilliant performance at the state meet held on the Boston Garden boards. At the B. A. A. meet, in which prep school stars competed, Eddie was the first high school lad to finish in his favorite event, taking third place.

Medford Boys Given Letters At Kents Hill

KENTS HILL, ME., April 5.—Included among those who received basketball awards at Kents Hill last Friday were Joseph Carey and Lucian Colucci of Medford. Kents Hill won the preparatory school championship of the state of Maine when it defeated Coach Fred Ellis' Bridgton Academy team for the second time this year in the final game of the University of Maine tournament. Both Carey and Colucci were largely instrumental in bringing the state title to Kents Hill, Carey as guard and Colucci as a forward.

Carey was easily one of the outstanding guards in prep school ranks in the state of Maine and was chosen all-tournament guard at the University of Maine tournament. Joe was the second high scorer on the team with a total of 126 points for the season which is high scoring for a guard. Coach Bartlett of the Kents Hill team regarded Carey as the most valuable all-around player on the team and believes that he has great prospects for a brilliant future in college ranks.

Colucci held down one of the forward berths for Kents Hill and exhibited a stellar game of ball until a knee injury incapacitated him for the last five games in the schedule. Pete was a great floor worker and an important part of the offense of the Hilltoppers, feeding the ball in to his teammates in addition to doing considerable scoring of his own accord. Colucci expects to return to Kents Hill next year and should give an excellent account of himself after the fine training he received this year.

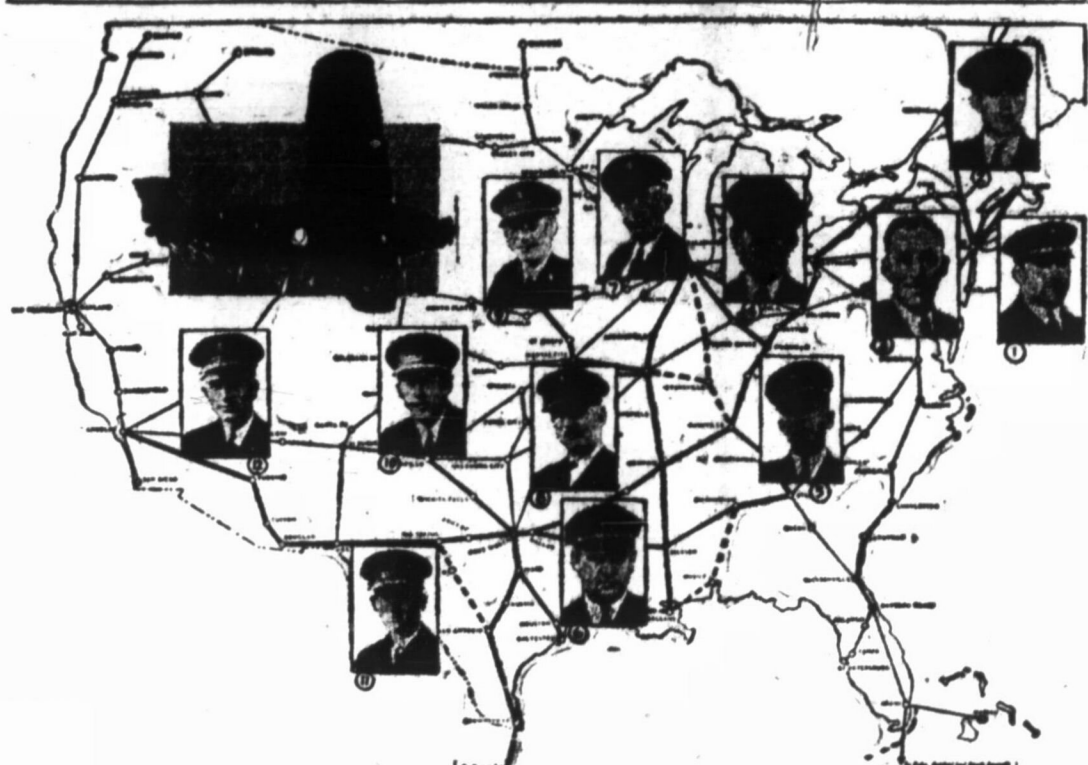

Kents Hill enjoyed a remarkable record on the polished court this winter, winning sixteen and losing but four games in an exacting twenty game schedule. All four of these defeats were on foreign floors and two of them were by the narrowest of margins. One of them was at the hands of the strong Cushing Academy outfit by a one-point margin and the other to the crack University of New Hampshire quint in an overtime period. The Hilltoppers had a clear claim to the state title, defeating every prep school in the state in addition to the University of Maine and Boston University Freshmen teams.

200 Boys Report to Coach Collins for Medford High's First Spring Football Drill

Collins Immediately Cuts Number Down to 70 As He Must Start Preparation Immediately For Scrimmage With Beverly Next Week—No Ends Dropped As Yet—Uniforms To Be Distributed Today and Tentative Lineup Will Start

Active preparation for the Medford High 1932 football campaign began yesterday afternoon when Coach Hubba Collins received 200 candidates in the first spring workout on the Fulton street grounds. Coach Collins immediately cut approximately 100 boys from the squad, the majority of whom were far too small to be of any benefit.

The list of those retained has nine centers, eight guards, fifteen tackles and fifteen backs. Over 50 ends reported but none were dropped. Collins will size up that group in the practice session scheduled for this afternoon and will retain only 12. Five of the number, however, are sure to receive equipment.

Collins is the only coach directing the activities. Line Coach Edie Brooks and second team Coach Art Terrell will assume their duties until practice is again resumed early in September. The veterans from last season are assisting Collins and directing different groups according to his instructions.

Get Away to Late Start. The spring workouts were originally scheduled to commence two weeks ago but the rain, snow and general bad weather have made them impossible until yesterday. The drills are due to come to a close in two weeks but owing to the late start Collins may keep the candidates out through the week of the 19th, during which time the annual spring vacation is held and there are no classes.

Practice yesterday was confined to conditioning work and forward passing. Today uniforms will be distributed to 30 players and on Wednesday the offensive work will begin, a tentative first time dummy scrimmage. Collins is forced to work fast as a scrimmage with Beverly has been arranged for the middle of next week, to be played at Beverly. The Beverly coach, Bodger Carroll, has also been handicapped by the inclement weather and did not call out his candidates until last Friday. Beverly has a regular game scheduled with Dedham for one week from Saturday and

Second Favorite for Derby

Quoted on the Winter books at 10-1, "Tick On," a black colt, owned by the Lomar Stables, is second favorite to win the 1933 Kentucky Derby, to be run in Louisville, Ky., May 7. "Tick On" made an excellent record last season, which accounts for the shortness of the odds for the Blue Grass classic.

St. Joseph's Teams Victors In Tournament

Three St. Joseph's Junior Holy Name teams, coached by Eddie Pidgeon, competed in the continuation of the first round in the annual Boston Boys' Club basketball tournament at Charlestown last evening. Two were victorious, the Midgots taking the Waltham Trojans in the Midgots division, 23-7 and the Juniors topping the Boyd A. C. of Everett in the Junior division, 24-12. The Cubs were defeated by the Cambridge Robins, 31-11.

Henry Gerrior and Sal Gemellaro scored the attack for the Juniors, scoring 15 points between them. Flap Cervone registered 15 points in the victory of the Midgots and Walter Carew scored six of the 11 points in the defeat of the Cubs.

Two other Medford teams played last night, both having eliminated. The Urona Club was dropped by the Somerville Midgots, 23-6 and the South Medford Bisons were swamped by the Newton Dwarfs in the Junior class, 31-10. The summaries:

Broadcast By Sunshine Club Interests Many

The program of the Daddy Sunshine club, broadcast last evening over Station WLOE, at 730 o'clock, following the talk by William F. Grady, chairman of the board of assessors of Medford, proved most entertaining and highly enjoyable. "Mal" was at his best and several new novelties were injected into the program. Daddy Sunshine spoke briefly on Rule One of the club and later announced the names of new members. So long was the list of new members that it was impossible to announce them next, but they will be broadcast next week.

Assisting "Mal" in the various skits and sketches were Baby Lenore Simmons, Paul Petersen and Bob Mills. "Mal's" skit with Baby Lenore was as usual very humorous. Paul Petersen sang the theme song in place of Baby Louise Tucker who was unable to be present. Chickie James was the first on the program, following Daddy Sunshine's talk. She gave an excellent rendition of a popular song. She sang again previous to the close of the program.

A quartet made up of four little Arlington members of the club sang "Blue Bells of Scotland." Their rendition was most pleasing. Marion Spreddy, cute little five-year-old Somerville Miss, presented a recitation, "The Secret." She was followed by Edna Wilson of Charlestown, who presented a popular song. Paul Petersen sang "Graham McCrackers," an announced acrobatic dance by Edna Wilson, which was both hilarious and novel. Dorothy and Genevieve Fay followed with piano and guitar selections. Dorothy J. dan of Medford one of the most talented members, sang "Somebody Loves You." Then came "Mal" and Baby Lenore in the usual weekly skit. Baby closed the skit with the song "Sungied on Your Shoulder."

Harold Breen of Wellington, boy xylophone artist, rendered several fine selections, followed by Jean Maguire who, in a pleasing voice, sang a popular song. Marshall Parham and his sister Natalie, next entertained. Marshall sang and Natalie accompanied at the piano. Natalie has never taken piano lessons. The program came to a close with the announcements of new members of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cuneo of Roxbury with their son Charles Jr., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Casagrande of Marion street, Sunday.

City League Nines Have Already Started Training For Openers

First Games Scheduled Less Than a Month Away — All Eight Teams Appear Stronger Although Lineups Have Not Changed Much—Pitchers Appear Quite Scarce—Many Players Have Transferred From Clubs They Played With In 1931

Although the weather was quite chilly, several of the teams in the Medford City baseball league managed to hold their first workouts of the season over the last weekend and as a result there are, no doubt, many sore limbs receiving special attention today.

The Belgian American Union worked out on Morrison Park both Saturday and Sunday. The Vernon Cubs practiced at Pleasant Park on Saturday afternoon. Independents had a short drill on Sunday at Summer street and the Civic Club practiced at Summer street on Saturday and Morrison Park on Sunday.

All of the above four teams appear stronger than last season although there have been few changes in any of their lineups. All of the teams are a trifle weak in the pitching department.

Independents Need Pitchers. The Independents will use Deacon Donahue in the box for the greater part of the first half and will probably have Dick DeVeer ready to take his turn in the second half when he returns home from Kents Hill. Lefty Zampelli, the boy who pitched two ten-inning victories in the championship series for the Independents, then St. Joseph's, has transferred to the Tigers. Joe Cassidy, Medford High basketball captain, will start the season behind the bat.

The infield will have Fleet Colclough, Ching Bryan, Pat Fausco, back at their regular positions and one other will be chosen to cover the fourth position. Bee Fitzpatrick and George Fusco will not join the team until late in June when they return from school. Fusco will be a candidate for the Amherst Freshmen and Fitzpatrick for the Harvard Freshmen nine.

The Independents will have two of the best outfielders in the circuit in Bobby Winn and Will Colclough. Colclough was the lead center gardener of the league last season and Winn turned in many neat performances with the Norton Club.

Spencer To Hurl. The B. A. U. lineup will be practically the same and it has been definitely assured that Wally Spencer, ace of the pitching staff, will again be available. Spencer is ill throughout the winter but is now getting back to condition and raring for the start of the season on May first.

His brother Bob will again go behind the bat and Sammy Woolf will be the reserve catcher. The two Santosuosos, Frank and Al, are reported to be with the Belgians, transferring from the Vernon Cubs. The Clifton brothers, Joe and John, may form another battery.

The Belgian infield will remain unchanged with Merrill Throver, Fred Patterson, George Wilford and Art Godtliab holding down regular assignments and the Hollis brothers, Al and Muggsy, playing in relief roles. Danny O'Hare, Art O'Hare, and Ollie Forward will patrol in the outfield.

Vernons Appear Strong. The Spellman brothers, Jim and Wongie, Joe McCurdy, Bill Ingraham, Lefty Mullins, Dick Cook, Paul and Howie Murphy, Frankie Newton, Steve Grimley, Buck Sweetland, Len Hazlett and Art Terrell reported at the Vernon Cubs' first session and took part in a long batting drill. Terrell, the former star outfielder for Tufts College and the Medford team of the Twilight League who is now coaching at Medford High will run the team on the field although Charlie Kerins is the manager officially. Either Mullins or Ingraham will toe the mound for the opening game with the Norton Club. It will probably depend on the number of left-handed and right-handed batters on the opposing team. Jim Spellman will go behind the bat and Joe McCurdy will be his understudy. Cook, P. Murphy, Grimley, Newton and Sweetland will play the infield positions at the start and Carlo Stagliano and Jake Yaglian will join the team in June. Terrell, H. Murphy, Hazlett and Wongie Spellman will be ready to start in the outfield with Harry Wright also joining the team in June.

Civics Will Miss Dwyer. The Civic Club will have the same lineup but is shy of pitchers. Ed Dwyer, the leading finger of the team last season is now enrolled at St. John's Seminary in Brighton and will not be available until the latter weeks of the summer. Art Leavitt will probably start the opening game with big Johnny McCullough behind the bat.

The Faucette brothers, Tom and John, Johnny Giamino, Al Shiner and Joe Doherty will be the infielders and Hiker Mobilia, Walter Rogers and Sal Capozzi the outfielders. Rogers rates second to none in the circuit as a fly shagger and Tom Faucette looms as the leading shortstop.

No Medford Starts Today. Phil Sanford plans to call out his North Medford Club team this afternoon for practice on Park street playground. The lineup will be changed somewhat from last season but the majority of lads who helped in the winning of the second half championship last season will again wear the Orange and Black. Brother McShane, formerly of the Tigers, and Frank Barry are slated to be the leading hurlers, but no catcher has yet been named. Both of last year's receivers having shifted to other clubs.

The infielders will be Al Haley, Luke Bresnahan, Henry Libby, Johnny MacLean, and Twinky Gauthier. Chris Sarno, Jimmy Walsh and Sonny McCune, will patrol in the garden.

Other Teams Make Ready. The Tigers will begin practice shortly and will have a lineup including several former North Medford players. Freddie Newton, Lefty Zampelli, and Vin Curcio are the flingers ready for service. Al Ritchie will don the mask and protector while his brother Bill will be in the outfield.

The Norton Club's probable lineup is yet unknown but the team will be strengthened with the addition of two South Medford boys, Nick Catino and Joe Fowler. Catino did a classy job around first base for the Catino Club, now disbanded, and Fowler has hurried for several leading up to his reputation he will be the best pitcher in the league.

We have yet to hear from Geo. Callahan, St. James' coach, but understand that he has his boys hustling for the opener with the Civics. St. James did not make much headway last season but all of the members were but youngsters, who with a year's experience as a background, should wage a great battle for top honors this year.

The following intentions of marriage have been filed at the office of the Medford City Clerk: Robert Nahigian, 37 Poole street, Medford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nahigian and Beatrice Mary Masoian, 22 Laurel street, Watertown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Misak G. Masoian.

Harold Roy Preston, 110 Perkins street, Somerville, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Perkins and Margaret Mary Griffin, 77 Orchard street, Medford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Griffin.

Probe Into Convict's Death

Charging that her husband met his death through cruel treatment of the part of prison authorities, Mrs. A. D. Swor (above), of Dallas Texas, is pressing for an investigation. Swor (above), a convict at Eastern Prison Farm, where he was serving a five-year sentence for burglary, died after a few days' illness. It is alleged that the man had told his jailers that he was too ill to work, whereupon he is said to have been whipped and chained to a bench on the farm. He died the day after his removal to Huntsville Prison.

Sergt. Reardon Reenlists In Co. E, Light Guard

By Sergt. E. V. LeBlanc
Sergt. Joseph P. Reardon has reenlisted in the Lawrence Light Guard for three years. Five years ago he started on his first enlistment. About a year after his enlistment he was promoted to the rank of corporal. Two years later he advanced to rank of sergeant, by means of winning competitive examinations. While a corporal he won appointment to the Training School of the Massachusetts National Guard, where he attained a fine record, graduating two years later among the first eight men in his class. Besides his military activities he has also proven himself to be one of the ablest managers of the basketball team ever had. He has acted in that capacity for two seasons.

Sergt. Reardon's record is an enviable one, he having advanced rapidly in rank for a youth in this company where advancement is well earned and where plenty of competition exists. In each rank he has left his influence of good example among the men who think a great deal of him. As for his record as a basketball manager—just ask any of his men what they think about him.

After that load we should fit pretty well with Joe.

Catholic Order Foresters In State Campaign

Courts of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters in this section are taking an active part in the state-wide membership campaign which officially started Friday. An increase of 6,000 new members is the quota set for the drive which will continue for the remainder of this month.

For the past two months members of the High Standing committee and district deputies have toured the state outlining the comprehensive plans perfected by High Chief Ranger Joseph A. Cahalan. Unusual enthusiasm is being manifested in all parts of the state and keen competition has been aroused by prizes offered by the governing board and local courts.

The member who secures the largest number of applications during the campaign will be sent to Dublin, Ireland, for the Eucharistic Congress, as guest of the organization.

Special officers have been opened at headquarters, 17 Worcester street, Boston, with a staff that is rendering every possible assistance to subordinate units. Printed matter has already been distributed, radio program planned, as well as "Foresters' Sunday" at churches.

When the drive officially opened Friday morning, High Chief Ranger Cahalan was presented with 300 applications by High Secretary Treasurer Joseph J. Forrester, giving a fair indication of the keen interest that has been developed during the preliminary stages.

"Despite present economic conditions, I feel confident that we will reach our goal," HCR Cahalan said yesterday. "In times like these eligible men and women realize the advantage of membership in fraternal orders such as the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters."

From a nucleus of 58 members, who formed Cathedral Court No. 1 in 1879, the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters has grown to an organization of approximately 60,000 members and 304 distinct courts.

In the year of its formation recovery began from the disastrous economic conditions which followed the Civil War. In 1873 there was a panic which involved the entire business structure of the country. Real estate values were tremendously deflated. Nearly 50 percent of the assets of insurance companies were invested in real estate mortgages. Life insurance suffered as a result with all other business. About 70 life insurance companies out of 100 failed. The income of the survivors became crippled. It has been estimated that policy holders lost 35 millions of dollars.

In 1879 new business showed an increase and dark skies of disaster began to clear. This was the atmosphere in which the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters was organized.

Elated and encouraged by the hearty sanction of Archbishop Williams, a meeting of those interested was called to consider the situation on March 12, 1879. At this meeting it was decided to start a new organization composed exclusively of Roman Catholics. Dennis F. O'Sullivan was chosen chairman and James J. Lanigan, secretary. Jeremiah Sullivan was selected as treasurer until a permanent one would be chosen.

After Captain O'Sullivan had explained the object of the proposed organization, the constitution which had been drafted by him was read and accepted. It was voted that the constitution be kept open for signature of those becoming members for a period of 30 days.

The original constitution bears the signatures of 124 men, 56 of whom constituted the charter list of the first court. They include laymen of all walks of life. The average age was 39.2 years. The youngest 26 and the oldest 65 years of age.

The growth of the order was rapid. A year after its origin, there were 12 courts, with a membership of 681. These included, besides Cathedral Court No. 1, St. Francis No. 2, Fenwick Court No. 3, St. Francis Court No. 4, Leo Court No. 5, Cheverus Court No. 6, St. Patrick's Court No. 7, Sherwood Court No. 8, Columbus Court No. 9, Iona Court No. 10, St. Joseph Court No. 11, and Fulton Court No. 12.

Strict adherence to the ideals of the founders, the loyalty, and integrity of its officers has made the organization one of the strongest fraternal orders in the country. To its ranks men and women of high standing in professional, business and social affairs, as well as average citizens have been attracted. Courts are now located in every section of the Commonwealth.

Two Issues Roberts' Quarterly Have Been Published

Much enthusiasm has been aroused over the Roberts' Junior High Quarterly. At the first of the school season there was a contest for editor-in-chief. This contest was for ninth grade pupils. It was to write an essay on any one of a number of subjects.

This contest was won by John Quinn, of the class of 1932. Another contest for the eighth and seventh grade pupils was run for assistant editors. These were won in the eighth grade by Wylie Kirkpatrick and in the seventh by Robert Hearn.

Business managers were then appointed by Miss O'Shea, faculty advisor. In the ninth, Harold Woodman, eighth, Bernard Shiner, and seventh, Russell Spencer were named.

Already two issues have been put out and a third is expected shortly. Few people realize the amount of work which goes into it. Anyone likes to see his name in print and the essays, poems, stories, etc., are all done by the pupils.

The printing is done by the ninth grade boys under the direction of Mr. Ockerbloom. The cuts are supplied by Mr. Kean from the Art club.

The Washington number was one of the best ever and proved both entertaining and instructive. Every department contributes articles, and this is an incentive for good written work in all subjects. No doubt the training will be of value later on to the youthful writers whose work fills the pages of the magazine.

It is hoped that the sale of the current number will be a record one, and that every pupil and friend of Roberts school will buy a copy.

BRIDGE PARTY

An interesting bridge party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kendrick of 32 Hurlcroft avenue. There were three tables of bridge. Later in the evening a buffet lunch was served.

GIRL SCOUT BETTY—The Hostesses—By Montfort Amory

Talent is not wanting in Betty's patrol. It is easy for the girls to plan menus and design place cards, and with the aid of a small printing press, borrowed from Mary's brother, they soon have a stack of printed announcement cards. A stroke of genius is added when one of the girls displays a poster she has just designed. (To be continued).
